If registration is open and you are eligible to enroll, a box in front of the CRN would allow you to select the section and register or add to worksheet.

Degree Works

You may also search for available sections that are required for your degree by clicking on missing course requirements in your plan.

A window will open that provides basic course information and a list of any current offerings. You cannot register from Degree Works, but you can note the CRNs for entry in the self-service registration system.

The screenshot displays the Degree Works interface. On the left, a window for course information for ENGL 3312 is open, showing prerequisites (ENG 1301 and ENG 1302) and a table of sections for Fall 2021. The main area shows a list of missing requirements with checkboxes and current offerings. A callout box points to the requirement for ENGL 3312, stating: "For any unmet requirement, you can click to see if the course is offered. A window will open showing all current offerings."
